3D Printing Program in

Libraries & Schools

3D Printing Program 2021
Interactive via Zoom

- Libraries/Schools Bookings Now Available

Toysinbox 3D Printing team went on a national tour in Summer 2019 and brought 3D printing excitement to 14 states. However, we had to cancel all of our 2020 summer tour bookings and rescheduled some to 2021 due to the pandemic.

For 2021, we are starting a new initiative: bring 3D printing fun across the nation to libraries and schools virtually. We're not limited to just July and August anymore. You can pick any month of the year that is suitable for your event(s), and there is no traveling charge.

We have been hosting virtual, interactive 3D printing programs via Zoom for library bookings, school booking, and for Toysinbox camps/class since June 2020. We are proud that our 3D printing programs on Zoom are engaging and have been enjoyed by elementary, middle school, and high school students.

In the program, each student is assigned a 3D printer and can see her/his design be printed live during class. The finished 3D prints will be collectively shipped to libraries or schools for local pickup.

We are all making the impossible possible! Email info@toysinbox.com for inquiries and bookings.
