Happy New Year!

Happy new year to you all! May your new year be filled with love, peace, and 3D printing happiness! There are many things to do and new things to try in the fantastic 3D printing world!

To name a few in our buzzing pipeline for 2023, we will continue adding new patterns to our 3D Printing Meets Embroidery and continue hosting STL free share events via our Facebook page. One event will start next Friday.

We released our 3rd book in December 2022 in the series Just Create: 3D Modeling with Tinkercad for 3D Printing. Each book contains five step-by-step projects to assist educators in teaching children 3D modeling for 3D printing. We have already started brainstorming what projects to be included in the 4th book in this series!

Also, we will be busy developing and testing new 3D printing fun activities and will share the 3D printing excitement with the general public. 3D Printing Fantasy, a new activity, will debut today in this newsletter.

Have a fabulous 2023!
