Monster Sea STL Flash Shared

Here comes the monster sea embroidery disc! We flashed shared the STL pattern on August 18th. The finished disc is great to be used as a floor base for Lego figurines. It also looks great on the wall. This work kicks off the Playful Bricky branch in our 3D Printing Meets Embroidery line. More Playful Bricky will come. Stay tuned!

Mountain STL Pattern Shared

Happy fall yáall! We shared our mountain embroidery STL, the last installment in our 5-pattern package 2022, via our Facebook page on August 26th. Do you feel the vibes of Autumn?

We showcased crystal 2022 disc in watermelon color on July 29th. Surely it has a summery vibe. Now, we are going to make the crystal 2022 pattern disc in purple. See what it looks like next month!

More Truncated Cubes

In August, we showcased the truncated cubes from To Space summer camp and Alien Robot summer camp. Now, it's time to show the truncated cubes from Ocean Creatures. Truncated cubes become a staple in our 3D printing camp! All of our students became experts with the Tinkercad Workplane helper function.

☺ Are you ready for the fun?

Thanks for Reading and See You Next Month!
