I call this seed survival islands which contain everything you need to survive. Plenty of trees, flowers, and chickens! The chickens may not spawn due to a bug. These islands are closely placed together and contains two variants of wood!

You spawn facing a forest. When you turn around, there will be a spruce forest/taiga biome next to an ocean. In the forest, you can find sheep in many colors, and flowers! A river separates the two biomes. There are plenty of caves to explorer.
